

Mating face

Applications / Advantages

- The reliable connector for power applications
- Patent HARAX® fast termination
- Overmoulded system cables in various lengths
- Robust design, quick assembly

| Identification                                                                                              | Part number           | Drawing                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Dimensions in mm |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------|
| 7/8" HARAX® Male  | 21 04 116 1505 |  |                  |