

PVC Ducting

A steel spiral helix embedded between two layers of black, flexible PVC

Lightweight and flexible

Suitable for fume ventilation, light duty particle extraction, air movement and use as a protective conduit

Self extinguishing to UL94 V0

Note

All data refers to performance at 18°C. Any change in temperature will affect the performance data